

I am a clinician, educator, and researcher; a Professor of Neuroanesthesiology and Neurocritical Care at AIIMS, New Delhi, India. I have had the pleasure of serving SNACC in various roles. As the Assistant Editor of SNACC newsletter, I recently introduced the 'International News Section'. I am a member of scientific affairs and communications committees, and a contributor of SNACC-bibliography. I have served as a poster moderator and workshop faculty at SNACC meetings and represented SNACC on a panel at ASNACC 2019. These experiences have helped me understand the mission and future directions of SNACC.

I have published >200 articles and 20 chapters in addition to editing a book. I am the Executive Editor of Journal of Neuroanaesthesiology and Critical Care, the official journal of ISNACC. I bring the experience of serving as an officer for other Neuroanesthesia societies aligned with SNACC. I served as the Treasurer of ISNACC and I am currently a member of ASNACC Executive Committee. The ISNACC and ASNACC websites were created under my leadership. These experiences have helped me develop a global perspective of Neuroanesthesia and functioning of professional societies which are important for SNACC leadership.

If elected, I will add to the diversity of SNACC board. My goal is to expand the global footprints of perioperative neurosciences under the umbrella of SNACC by enhancing international collaborations. I sincerely believe that I have the ability and the motivation to advance the mission of SNACC.

Regards!
