

Linda S. Aglio, MD, MS
Associate Professor
Harvard Medical School
Founding Director of Neuroanesthesia
Associate Director of Intraoperative
Neurophysiological Monitoring
Brigham and Women's Hospital

Today I am seeking re-election for the position of Director at Large.

I have a longstanding commitment to SNACC. My portfolio is diverse and covers many areas. I have served as a Director at Large on the Board of Directors; founded and co-chaired the Committee on Diversity and Inclusion; established an outreach program for ALL interested members both national and international; revised the SNACC mission statement to reflect the importance of diversity and inclusion; served on the Communications, Membership, Sponsorship, Education and Scientific Affairs Committees.

As the chair of the Diversity and Inclusion Committee, my initiatives included a mentoring program, an exchange program and an international program; and the creation of the SNACC D&I WhatsApp platform.

I have chaired the Special Interest Group (SIG) for Neuromonitoring for almost a decade, have served as an abstract reviewer and contributed to the website.

I have participated in every SNACC meeting since 1989 – presenting abstracts and posters, moderating and leading workshops.

As a funded investigator I will promote SNACC's long standing tradition of discovery.

I will continue to support SNACC members by revitalizing the society to embrace ALL our members. I will continue to work diligently to expand SNACC's international membership and leadership role.

Today I humbly ask for your vote.